To the Public.

THE SENTINEL, having double the circulation IN THE CITY, and more than treble OUT OF IT, of any other paper here, renders it far the cheapest and most desirable medium in Milwaukee for all classes of Advertisements.

EVERY BUSINESS MAN who consults his own interest, will avail himself of the columns of THE DAILY SENTINEL,—especially when he can do so at the same prices charged by other papers, and secure more than double the advantage of circulation.

This is no boast, but EVERY WORD TRUE.

News Digest.

☞ Foreign advices of the 24th ult. are at hand. GARIBALDI has commenced operations in Calabria. Russia is concentrating fresh troops in Bessarabia and increasing her naval forces in the Mediterranean. The weather throughout England and France was discouraging, and the harvest would prove unfavorable. A slight advance is noted in the Liverpool breadstuffs market.

Senator Seward in Milwaukee.

Senator SEWARD—we are informed by a telegram received last evening—will reach Milwaukee on Saturday night of this week. He will spend Sunday and Monday in this city, and then start for St. Paul, stopping at La Crosse.

We shall be able to give further particulars in regard to his reception, in our next issue.

The Grain Trade.

The receipts of wheat yesterday by the various Railroads terminating in this city, were 109,813 bushels, including 1,297 barrels of flour. When it is considered that threshing has barely commenced in the north-western portion of Wisconsin and Minnesota, and that the Railroads running through that part of the State are not yet taxed to one third of their freightage ability, some idea may be formed of what the extent of our grain trade will be this season. The shipments of wheat by Lake from this port yesterday, reached the respectable sum of 143,734 bushels The market was very active and prices advanced 5c during the day, closing firm at 95c for No. 1 spring and 93c@$1,00 for extra

NORTH CAROLINA.—DOUGLAS stock has been so poor in North Carolina that they did not even muster a Convention to nominate an Electoral Ticket, until DOUGLAS himself came down there last week. When they did muster it, only about three-fifths of the Counties in the State were represented.—There is a marked contrast between the reception that the North Carolinians gave DOUGLAS and that which, a few weeks since, they gave LANE. LANE was received with salutes, dinners, military parades and speeches, but DOUGLAS is treated rather as an object of curiosity than reverence, and the pervading feeling among his friends as well as his foes is that there is not the ghost of a chance for him.

THE PANIC in Texas seems to have gained new force. Mere hangings and lynchings, the discovery of more "incendiary plots," real or imaginary, are reported. Yet it is a singular fact, that notwithstanding the supposed extensive "plot" to murder the whites, not a single attempt even to take the life of a citizen has been reported. The negroes and "abolitionists" killed by the slaveholders and their friends have been the only victims. Whether the Texas panic is founded on real dangers or only supposed ones, it is suggestive of a reflection as to the wisdom of extending into the National Territories a system to which are incident such panics and plots with such bloody results.

FIRE BALLOONING.—A French aeronaut named COFFIA, pupil of GODDARD, announces that he will ascend in a Montgolfier Balloon from Jones' Woods, N. Y., next week, or the week following. The air-ship will be 51 feet in height, and 42 feet in diameter, with cubic capacity 40,196 feet, and an ascensive power of 408 pounds; the air-ship and its equipments will weigh about 230 pounds.—The materials to be used in the construction of the machine will be 140 pounds of Manilla paper, 200 yards of calico for the bands, sides, joints, and neck of the balloon. The inflative power is to be derived from rarified air, which is produced by burning straw under the mouth of the balloon.

A CIRCULAR was issued by the Catholic Bishop of Buenos Ayres, calling for subscriptions to aid the Pope in maintaining his spiritual power. The Italian Catholics immediately got up a meeting at the theatre, passed resolutions condemning the exercise of temporal power by the Pope, and started a subscription to aid the revolution in Sicily. That was a just and fitting answer.

POPULATION OF RACINE.—By the returns of the Marshals at Racine, the population of that city is found to be:

	MALES.	FEMALES.
First Ward,	816	856
Second Ward,	646	690
Third Ward,	1,379	1,255
Fourth Ward,	592	537
Fifth Ward,	507	514
	3,940	3,854

Total, 7,823.

PARDON OF SPENCER.—We understand that Mrs. Baker, of Buffalo, N. Y, is in our city, on a visit to her brother, John B. Spencer, and that she is about prosecuting an effort for his pardon, upon the ground of ill health. We are free to admit that unless Spencer is pardoned, so that he can receive, under favorable conditions, a thorough and proper course of medical treatment, his life must be sacrificed to the stern and inflexible demands of the law. He has now been suffering a physical malady for over two years, which has baffled the skill of his two physicians, in his present situation, to remove, and we are informed the present and late prison physicians will give certificates to this effect and recommend his pardon.

We will also say that Spencer has, in our opinion, suffered sufficient punishment, to answer all the ends of justice, and that he has accordingly fully atoned to the law; and especially when the circumstances attending the offence are taken into consideration. Spencer undoubtedly though he was acting in self-defence; having not only been threatened of his life by the deceased, but actually assaulted at the time the homicide was committed. But mercy now demands the law to yield, to save the life of the victim. We earnestly recommend his pardon.—Prison City Items, Aug. 31st.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—We are informed by a gentleman from Hortonville that an accident occurred in that village on Monday last which resulted in the death of Mr. Benjamin Ridout, a mill-wright, who was engaged at work in a steam mill. After dinner he went to work, and but a few minutes had elapsed ere he was carried back to his family, a corpse. The occurrence was as follows: Mr. R. was endeavoring to replace a belt on some of the machinery, when his chisel, which he used for that purpose was entangled and thrown from his hand, hitting him in the stomach and throwing him into the balance wheel where he was terribly mangled before any assistance could be rendered him. He leaves and five children to mourn his loss, and the community loses one of its highly esteemed citizens.—Appleton Crescent.

MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR.

Supposed Death of a Husband through the Agency of his Wife.

A week ago, Mr James H. McCord, a gentleman who has long resided in this city, and was well known and much esteemed by a large circle of friend and acquaintances, returned to his home, No. 182 Court street, and after partaking of a hearty supper suddenly fell to the floor as if attacked with a fainting fit. The members of the family immediately carried him into an adjoining room and laid him on a sofa, and procured quickly as possible the services of a physician. The physician called and pronounced him dangerously ill, and after leaving some medicine, gave positive orders that he should not be disturbed until morning, but during the night Mr. McCord grew better, and despite the mandate of the doctor, he arose from the sofa and walked to his chamber.

The following morning he was taken with a violent emesis and convulsions, and grew gradually worse during the day, and when the physician called again and noted his changed condition, he left word that no one save his immediate attendants should be admitted into the room; but notwithstanding all precaution, Mr. McCord constantly grew worse, and about 6 o'clock, Tuesday evening, surrounded by his family and friends, he died in a spasm.

The funeral ceremonies were arranged to take place the following Thursday morning, and a few minutes before the minister commenced the performance of the last sad rites, a messenger appeared in the chamber of death and placed a letter in the hands of a son of the deceased, which stated that his father had been poisoned—directly accusing his wife and a man named Washburne. The letter was signed "Your friend, William."

Of course a document bearing such horrifying intelligence, and charging the son in the memory of his dead father to investigate the matter, almost unnerved him; but he heard the service through and paid the last tribute of respect which a child can pay a parent, and after returning from the grave, acquainted the family with the contents of the letter he had received.

The mother denied that she had any agency in the matter, and chided her boy for giving credence to a letter which she said had been written to injure her.

Friday following, Lawrence Alberger went to the Police Court and caused a warrant to be issued for the arrest of Emily McCord and Jerome Washburne, charging them with poisoning the deceased. The instrument was placed in the hands of Chief of Police Wilson, who instead of harrowing the feelings of the family by dragging the accused publicly to the Station House, allowed the wife to remain at home under the surveillance of an officer. The same was pursued towards Washburne. The following morning they were taken before the Police Court and held to bail in the sum of $5,000, for their appearance from day to day.

On Friday afternoon Coroner Carey, in company with the physician who had attended upon Mr. McCord, visited the graveyard and exhumed the body, took from it the stomach and placed it in the hands of Prof. Wayne for chemical analysis.

There are of course a hundred rumors concerning the melancholy affair, to which we give no heed. We have it on positive authority that Washburne's visits to the house of Mr. McCord were made against the latter's expressed wishes, and have several times given rise to domestic disturbances.

Prof. Wayne has not yet reported the result of the investigations. So soon as he shall have finished his labors the affair will be judicially examined.—Cin. Gazette.

Failure of the Crops in Europe.

From the N. Y. Tribune, Aug. 30.

Alas for British farmers! A black cloud obscures the horizon of their hopes, and the gloomiest apprehensions prevail for the result of their harvests. Matters have gone from bad to worse, as the season has advanced; and now the most sanguine English authorities say that to expect a decent crop is folly. An unpropitious summer, when there was scarce anything but a succession of rainy, cloudy and cold days, have wrought their effects, and brought disaster to the crops. "Day by day," says the leading article in the Mark Lane Express, "the prospect only becomes the more serious; while the very pleasure-seekers put aside their own little personal comforts and enjoyments to turn to the graver consideration of what the people will do for bread. The least glimpse of sunshine but leads one, will o'-the-wisp-like, to greater disappointment. The moon's change brings only more rain; and the noole plust lotu offers no other spectacula than another wet day."

You may load the camel with feathers up to a certain weight, but one feather more added to that breaks his back; so the British crops have struggled against cold and wet by virtue of the excellent care which they received and the efficient aid of tile-drainage, and strong hopes were entertained that an average crop might be reaped after all; but another week of cold nights and stormy days has apparently finished them. The contingencies of the case are enough to appall the hearts of the philanthropist. The agricultural laborers of England, receiving barely 50 cents per diem for their labor, are forced to buy the bread of life at famine prices, and many a victim must face the probability of starvation which awaits him. Their necessity, in this case, is our opportunity, and hence it will happen that our western farmers, in their time of exuberant prosperity, will rejoice at the short crop of Great Britain, and take no thought of the misery it entails. The leading agricultural paper, the Mark Lane Express, has contented itself with faithfully recording the conditions of the weather and crops throughout the season, and refrained from taking a desponding view of the agricultural prospects. At last, however, things have come to the worst, and it unwillingly assumes the office of alarmist in its last issue.

On the Continent things have taken a bad turn, and, unless more auspicious advices are received by the next two steamers, we may reasonably expect that our western corn and wheat will bear a very high price. The unfavorable weather of the second week of the present month, has kept up the price of flour at Paris, Bordeaux, Marseilles, and Nantes. In Belgium the uncertain weather had a like effect. At Amsterdam the offers of wheat were not numerous, and prices were kept firm. The harvest near Hambro' was deferred on account of bad weather, and barley and rye were said to have seriously suffered. Berlin advices were unfavorable as to the appearance of late potatoes, the haulm showing many dark spots since the heavy rains of the 20th and 31st of July, but the tubers had not shown disease as yet.

WINANS' STEAMER.—On Saturday last, about noon, as we were quietly seated beneath an umbrella on the stern sheets of a boat anchored near the buoy, in the Patapsco, opposite Lazaretto, lazily fingering a line that we had just thrown into the water, baited with a shrimp, for the capture of some foolish stray perch, our attention was aroused by a quick and sharp puffing, similar to the Mississippi high-pressure steamboat, and turning to see what it was, we saw coming right towards us, Winans' huge black whale-looking monster, on a trial trip, but before we could prepare to get out of the way, we saw it would pass outside of us, and so we drew in our line, sat still, and had a capital opportunity to contemplate its movements. The hull has been lengthened some 125 feet, we believe, and it now makes quite a formidable appearance on the water. It floated like a duck, and obeyed the helm with the instantaneousness of human will. As it came head towards us several times during its trial trip up and down the river, we had a clear view of its propelling wheel. It revolved with all the majesty of a huge mill-wheel, right about the center of the hull, and so favorably set were the floats, that it scarcely lifted the water at all on the emerging side. There was some sensible irregularity at the times in the revolution of the propeller, evidently arising from the cranks passing the dead points. When they would turn her short around, she slightly listed, but it was surprising to see in what a short space she would go round. On the stretch coming in, her velocity was terrible, if one may so speak.—Baltimore Patriot.

A GENTLEMAN who resides near Boydton, Va., has been trying to make it rain; to that end he has built a "rain-tower"—at a cost of $1,000—30 feet in diameter at the base, and 60 feet high. It contains six flues which are filled with dry pine wood, which is set on fire, and the flames kept up until the desired effect is produced on the elements. His theory is that the great heat produced in the air above the tower will cause the clouds to concentrate over it, when plenty of rain will fall in that vicinity. Thus far the experiment has proved unsuccessful, he himself having been a great sufferer from drouth during the entire spring and summer. Notwithstanding this failure, he is still a firm believer in the practicability and utility of the invention.

Departure of Steamers.

FOR TWO RIVERS.

The steamer Huron leaves Olmsted's dock, every evening at 8 o'clock, for Port Washington, Sheboygan, Manitowoc and Two Rivers.

FOR BUFFALO.

Screw steamers, with good accommodations, leave the different transportation docks every day, for Buffalo.

FOR OSWEGO AND ODDENSBURGH.

One of the Northern Transportation Co's screw steamers sails for the above ports every day, from the Co.'s Company's dock at the M. & Miss. R. R. depot, touching at nearly all intermediate ports.

FOR COLLINGWOOD.

The Collingwood Line of screw steamers leave semi-weekly from Dousman's dock, foot of East Water Street, connecting at Collingwood with the Northern Railway of Canada, for the East.

FOR GREEN BAY.

The screw steamer Ogontz makes weekly trips to the above port starting from Olmsted's dock.

Living in the Air.

Few persons are aware of the benefits of being in the air. Physiologists recognize its importance, as the only means of the system being supplied with pure blood. They very properly insist that without pure air the lungs cannot furnish in its best and richest state, the blood that at every heart throb, is sent to every rivulet in the system.

There are other considerations worthy of note. How offensive to our organs of smell is an atmosphere loaded with noisome odors! This sense is a sort of touchstone to the whole system. It reveals dangers which neither the eye, the ear, nor the hand can take any cognizance of. It tells the organism of the presence of an irresistable, silent, unappreciable enemy. Its warnings are never made without a cause and should always be heeded.

The present period of the year is the one which of all others, calls into active exercise this nice sense of smell. It points out the sources of miasma, and as clearly indicates danger to health, as stinging insects pain to the body. Whatever is offensive to the smell should be avoided, and every means used to remove the source of evil.—Often some disinfecting agent may be employed, which, acting chemically, absorbs the malaria and disarms the poisoned air of its power of evil.

Thus, wood ashes, or air slacked lime, are valuable to throw in sinks, gutters and other similar sources of bad air. They should always be employed freely at the present period of the year. Chloride of lime for dwellings is the most valuable disinfecting agent known. It often happens that a rat or a cat dies within the hollow walls, or between floors, where they cannot be got at without great difficulty. Small quantities of this article set in the rooms will completely purify the air, and render the constant taint arising from the decaying flesh harmless.

AN IMPORTANT ACCESSION.—On Monday evening Mr. Biegler, editor of the Atlas, the German Republican organ in Milwaukee, made a speech before the Ninth Ward Douglas Club, in which he renounced and denounced Black Republicanism, and announced his determination to support Douglas and Democracy. His example will be followed by hundreds of the German Republicans of Milwaukee.—Catskill, N. Y., Dem. & Recorder.

With the exception of two items, the above is correct. One is, that there is no Mr. BIEGLER in Milwaukee who edits a paper. And the other is, that Mr. DOMSCHKE, the editor of the Atlas, has never renounced, or denounced, Republicanism.

We have not had the pleasure of exchanging with the Catskill Democrat, but we shall now place it upon the list. We venerate it—respect is a word not strong enough. The Catskill paper has out-lied any thing we have seen during this campaign. It is a common thing for editors—especially Democratic editors, to distort facts. We have grown accustomed to beholding truths perverted, but the Catskill Democrat is the first sheet we have ever got hold of which would travel a thousand miles to manufacture a brazen lie, that, after it was manufactured, even its own readers would not believe.

The beauty of a political falsehood consists in its audacity, its extravagance, and its ingenuity. For the two former we award the palm to our mountain cotemporary, altho' he undoubtedly desires no praise. The conviction that he has lied was undoubtedly satisfaction enough, and the after consideration of whether there was any such person as BIEGLER, or any such paper as the Atlas troubled him not.

When this Democratic squib shall have been copied through the one-horse establishments of New York, it will be a consolation to our injured editor, "Mr. BIEGLER," to know that Republicans never heard of the Catskill affair, and Democrats read it for the whoppers it contains. It is doubtful whether the fame of it had ever reached Milwaukee, had the editor not fastened himself on to an imaginary Republican, and lied so loud that people stopped to see what was the matter.

The accessions to the Democracy must be few and far between in the neighborhood of Catskill, when the fuglemen of that party have to come all the way to Milwaukee for a recruit, and then take up with a man of straw.

WEDDING AT THE PLYMOUTH CHURCH.—The Plymouth (Rev. Mr. HELMER) Church was yesterday the witness of a very brilliant and happy scene. The occasion being the joining in holy wedlock of Mr. H. K. GRANT and Miss LIZZIE ARNOLD, daughter of JONATHAN E. ARNOLD, Esq., of this city.

The church was appropriately festooned with wreathes of flowers and the appearance of the bride and bridegroom, together with the bridesmaids, was acknowledged by all to have been most interesting. Rev. Mr. HELMER performed the ceremony.

The church had been most tastefully decorated by the young people of the congregation, with arches of the evergreens and festoons and wreaths of flowers.

Daylight was excluded and the scene brilliantly lighted with gas.

The appearance of the bride as she moved along the festooned aisle to the nuptial altar, was transcendantly lovely, and called forth expressions of admiration on every hand.

Milwaukee loses by these rites one of her most graceful and brilliant daughters; but may the auspicious omens which seemed to presid- at her marriage vow, attend her as she goes to adorn the society of our sister city.

CAUTION.—Our readers are cautioned against bills of the Bank of Clifton, Canada West,—the old Zimmerman Bank. They are not bankable here, and doubtful at the best. Also the Bank of Canada West, at Clifton.

BOARD OF COUNCILORS.

$3,600 Voted to the Policemen.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Councilors, on Monday night, the Finance Committee made a report in favor of paying the amount claimed by the Policemen as back pay. Accompanying the report was a recommendation in favor of the resolution of Councilor JOHNSON; which resolution was as follows:

Resolved, By the Board of Councilors, the Board of Aldermen concurring, that the Mayor and Clerk be and they are hereby authorized to sign and issue, and the Comptroller to countersign, City Orders to the following named persons, the several amounts set opposite their names. And the Clerk of this Board is hereby required to take their several receipts for the same, which shall be in full for services rendered in the city as policemen, for the year 1859:

Peter Dolan, $199,70; Thos. Shaughnessy, $199,70; Jerry O'Connor, $199,70; Adam Bingenheimer, $199,70; Adam Jutz, $199,70; Thos. Peaker, $199,70; George Grauer, $199,70; John McCarty, $199,70; J. H. Keller, $199,70; P. Smith, $199,70; W. W. Perrigo, $199,70; Thos. Bohan, $199,70; A. Beck, $199,70; P. Shengle, $102,70.

There was considerable debate on the question. Councilors LOCKWOOD and ROSEBECK protested strongly against the measure, but it was finally passed by the following vote:

Ayes—Bunning, Graulich, Herzer, Johnston, Mallon, McCormick, Noyes, O'Brien, Rueckert, Schroeder and Webster.

Noes—Argus, Lockwood, Merrill, Obermann, Rosebeck and Vogel.

The committee to whom was referred the West Side Horse Railroad, in West Water street, reported back with certain amendments. After some important time spent in unimportant squabbling, this matter was referred to another committee, consisting of members of the West and South Sides.

Here Councilor Lockwood introduced the Investigating Committee business—and this was the signal for a Pandemonium. Members moved to adjourn immediately—members made long speeches which were not comprehended by the reporters, and confounded the President—members made simultaneous motions, contradicted themselves and each other, and enjoyed themselves in this delightful manner until after eleven o'clock.

IT HAS BEEN A MYSTERY that exchange at Chicago has ruled so high and been so scarce, in view of the immense receipts of produce at that port, from which very large amounts of legitimate exchange on the East should be, and has been realized. But the following from THOMPSON'S last Reporter, shows, in part, the secret of the large demand for exchange:

"Federal and State Bonds are a little higher. The supply is small, and the demand is on the increase. The Bank Department of Illinois alone absorbs more than a hundred thousand per week. The secured circulation of that State is now over ten millions, and by the 1st of January it will be twelve millions and a half. We recently heard a Connecticut Bank President, in the presence of an Illinois Banker, speak of Illinois currency as 'shinplaster stuff.' How the Western sucker bristled was a caution."

More than one hundred thousand dollars per week for the manufacture of just such Banks as the following, we copy from the Wisconsin in its issue of September 1:

"There are twenty-three banks which have not one dollar of specie to redeem upwards of two million dollars of currency. Their names and conditions are as follows:

Agricultural Bank, Marion, $35,945.
Bank of Commerce, Vienna, $52,600.
Bank of Indemnity, Gallatin, $37,838.
Bank of Pike County, Griggsville, $131,170.
Bank of the Republic, McLanesboro, $265,545.
Bank of Sparta, Sparta, $57,091.
Canal Bank, Thebes, $50,744
Commercial Bank, Palestine, $51,355.
Columbian Bank, Elizabethtown, $91,713.
Continental Bank, Grandville, $34,965.
Citizens' Bank, Mt. Carmel, $63,862.
Illinois River Bank, Hardin, $80,091.
Kane County Bank, Geneva, $42,334.
Kankakee Bank, Kankakee, $50,510.
Lake Michigan Bank, Harrisburg, $29,170.
New Market Bank, New Market, $50,000.
Pamet Bank, Griggsville, $56,670.
Ohio River Bank, Golconda, $142,948.
Patriotic Bank, Hutsonville, $91,679.
Reapers' Bank, Fairfield, $109,244.
Shawnee Bank, Elizabethtown, $160,093.
State Stock Bank, St. Johns, $110,413.
Total circulation $2,139,608; specie none.

It was a most unwise and we think unfortunate step, for our bankers, after the State was measurably clear of Illinois currency, to allow it in again.

That our currency, now substantially clear of the Wild Cat, acting upon a system of redemption that affords practical protection to the community as well as from its public securities lodged with the State, should have to come in competition with this really and literally "shinplaster currency" of Illinois, is too bad.

But above all and beyond all this, is the fact, that this currency, as is true of all inferior currency, makes its way through a community and displaces the coin, and currency corruptible into coin, and establishes itself in stead. And the danger is that bye and bye, the catastrophe comes and the people wake up to the fact that the only money they have is this "pretence" for money. It is not sufficient that Missouri banks or Virginia banks, or Tennessee banks, are put up in the hands of the State officers. Panic ensues, and very great losses are in the end sustained.

And now when prosperity seems dawning upon us, is there no way by which the community can be protected from the influx of depreciated currency from the States?

If there is no other way, let the interference of the Legislature of the State, be invoked.

NEW FLOURING MILL AT NEENAH.—Messrs Smith & Lisk of Neenah have a new flouring mill nearly completed. The castings and machinery arrived last week from the east by way of Green Bay.—Oshkosh Courier.

We think that Wisconsin Millers will be able to procure machinery and mill castings in Milwaukee, on as favorable terms as at "the East," and if this is the case they should certainly patronize home manufacturers. It will cost nothing to look in at our machine shops and foundries, and we would advise any of our friends in the country who are about fitting up new mills, to do this much before sending their orders to the East. Decidedly the most complete flouring mill of its size in the State is that recently built in this city by Messrs. NICHOLS, BRITT & Co., and every particle of the machinery used in it was turned out by our own work shops, Mr. GOODNOW of the Bay State Iron Works manufacturing the engine, and Messrs. DECKER & SEVILLE of the Reliance Works, the gearing, &c.

Republican Meeting.

Notice is hereby given that there will be a business meeting of the Republican Central Club, at Head Quarters, in Albany Building, next Wednesday evening, Sept. 5th, at 7 o'clock.

The committee on finance and other arrangement committees are expected to report. Let there be a full attendance.

WINFIELD SMITH, Pres't.
M. G. SMITH, Sec'y.

THIRD WARD REPUBLICAN CLUB.—A meeting of this club will be held this evening, at 8 o'clock, in SEVER'S lower hall, to make arrangements to co-operate with the other wards for the reception of WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

G. J. HAYWARD, Secretary.

Evening papers please copy.

NO GO.—They are "tinkering" with the spire on the Cathedral and the town clock has stopped pro tem.

A Hallelujah from La Crosse.

POMEROY, of the La Crosse Union & Democrat, sings the following pleasant song.—There is more truth than poetry in it undoubtedly:

MILWAUKEE—GOOD TIMES.—From present indications the shipments of wheat for the coming year from Milwaukee will be three times as great as any previous year, and largely in excess of the shipments from Chicago. The price will be better than ever before, and if farmers are not contented now they never will be. Already are the business men of Milwaukee and her banks being driven with work and the season has barely commenced. Once more is the white winged fleet of boats busily engaged on the lakes, and piles upon piles of goods, enough it would seem to supply the state for ten years, are being landed on her wharves. From this year Milwaukee will date a new existence. Her mammoth stores are filling up with goods in many instances direct from foreign shores without trans shipment. The feeling is setting down in favor of Milwaukee at the best point in the northwest for buying or selling, and we are glad to see it. Her merchants have been preparing for a heavy trade this fall, and if the piles of goods daily passing through this city for a northern and northwestern destination, with a Milwaukee mark on, is anything to judge from, they will not be disappointed.

The "good time coming" has at last reached Wisconsin. All over the State—in the Grant and Iowa county lead mines—in the deep echoing pineries of the North and West, and on the thousands of broad prairie farms all over the State, has business revived. Men walk with a lighter and more elastic tread. Women look less care worn.—Farmers are jingling something besides nails and buckle-tongues in the pockets of their trowsers. Travel is increasing. Money is becoming more plenty. People are paying or naming a day when they will pay their debts. Country merchants are putting up additions to their stores and treating the front to an extra coat of paint or some new blinds. We have traveled much over Wisconsin for the past three years and cannot help noticing the difference between hard and good times God has blessed Wisconsin this year, and if we now as a State will act honest—pay our debts—stop talking about repudiating—quit railroad stealing—improve the country and lessen our taxes, we shall be in a Garden of Eden from now on.

We are glad to notice that, this season, many merchants from the north-west are buying their goods in Milwaukee, instead of going out of the State for them. We live here on the river, at the terminus of one of Milwaukee's great arteries, and have a chance to know. Every day we see country merchants in town from up the river, or from Minnesota, who in answer to our inquiry as to where they made their purchases, four times out of five, reply:

"Well, we shall buy what we can here (in La Crosse) and try Milwaukee then."

"Can you do as well in Milwaukee as in New York?"

"We can do better if we call our time anything."

"Can you do as well in Milwaukee as in Chicago and St. Louis?"

"We can do better there than in Chicago, and better than in St. Louis, on account of freights."

The feeling is settling down, and we are glad to see it, in favor of Milwaukee, and the result will be that merchants will know that more is kept in the State, and they will have better bargains than can be got elsewhere. The great competition in Milwaukee has helped all of us, and will do so still more. The effort they are making to secure the North western trade shows that they intend to sell goods low, and we are glad to see so many taking advantage of this competition.

Fictitious Securities of Insurance Companies.

THE ARTICLES BELOW are from the New York Herald and a Philadelphia paper.—There is no business in the world subject to so much deception as the Insurance business, and as the writer in the Philadelphia paper states, "there is no such thing as cheap insurance." A fair paying rate, based on the experience of statistics and years in the business, is as useful and necessary for the safety of the assured, as for the insurer, and our community should look well to it, that their money is paid into good, responsible, well-known Companies—institutions that pay promptly, in case of loss, and that have a well-known guarantee in the shape of a sound, unimpaired capital:

From the N. Y. Herald.

We see that, under an investigation instituted by the State Comptroller, the assets of the Will Street Fire Insurance Company have been declared insufficient to justify the future prosecution of its business, and that Superintendent Barnes has called for the dissolution of the corporation. It would appear from the report of this officer that the most of the securities which made up the company's assets consist of mortgages on wild and uncultivated lands in this State, or of other property, the value of which is greatly overestimated.

We believe that if the securities of most of the other fire insurance companies in this city were subjected to a similar strict examination, they would be found far below the amount fixed by law. There is probably not one out of ten that is in a condition to meet the risks that it undertakes, supposing an extensive and wide-spread conflagration to occur. These fire insurance companies are but in too many instances established merely to provide places for broken down merchants and others who have a certain amount of commercial influence. All such bogus institutions are a drug upon the operations of a system which has conferred a vast amount of benefit upon society, and which would contribute still further to its protection if the profits of the legitimately organized operations were not cut up by an unfair opposition of this kind. We trust that the heads of the insurance department will persevere in their efforts for the reform of this abuse, of which the report of Superintendent Barnes is so creditable an example.

From a Philadelphia Paper.

REDUCING THE RATES OF INSURANCE.

Some of the Fire Insurance Companies of Philadelphia, and with one or two exceptions, all the Foreign Insurance Companies doing business in Philadelphia, have made, and it would appear they are still making, considerable and almost ruinous reduction on rates for mercantile risks. There is no reason whatever beyond the purposes of competition, and to obtain business at losing rates, rather than get none, for such a course. The officers and agencies that take risks at the ruinous rates referred to, with scarcely an exception, have neither the ability, desire nor intention of paying losses when they occur under these policies. It is, therefore, not the least strange that the merchant and proper owner can get insured (nominally) large lines at nominal rates of premium.

Our readers should bear in mind that a cheap insurance is, in nine cases out of ten, the most expensive in the end, and when an agent, drummer or broker solicits, or rather drums a merchant or property owner for his risks, and insists upon placing them, on the ground of taking them at a low rate of premium, it will be safe to infer that the intention is to place them in some bogus local or foreign Insurance Company, that, according to the above mode of paying losses, can safely afford to take lines at even nominal rates. The Insurance business in Philadelphia is, by the above fraudulent concerns, being cut up badly, and we would advise our responsible Companies not to try to compete with them, for although many men are at present somewhat blinded to their interests in Insurance matters, there is no doubt but that a great portion of such will ere long discover their error—some by sad and expensive experience, and others, probably, by observation—as far at least as the impropriety of cheap insurance is concerned.

The DOUGLAS KNOW-Nothing Coalition in New York is already producing the expected fruits. The honest men of both parties, sought to be included in the trade, repudiate the "bargain and corruption" of Tammany Hall, and "Dark Lantern" tricksters, and insist upon knowing how the Electors nominated on the "fusion" ticket will vote, before they will consent to support them. Mr. OTTENDORFER, editor of a German Democratic paper in New York, and one of the Electors on the "fusion" ticket, has addressed the following searching letter to the DOUGLAS State Central Committee:

"NEW YORK, Aug. 29, 1860.

"GENTLEMEN:—The report of the Democratic State Convention held at Syracuse, August 16th, 17th and 17th, 1860, apprises me of the fact of my nomination by that assembly as elector for the 5th district.

"I further perceive by there reports that the Convention selected from its members a committee consisting of two for each judicial district for the purpose of the nomination of an electoral ticket; and that, according to its fourth resolution, the convention cordially adopts Stephen A. Douglas and Herschel V. Johnson, as the Democratic candidates for the Presidency and Vice Presidency of the United States, pledging itself to support their election to the utmost extent of its power."

The committee appointed by this convention for the nomination of the electoral ticket, was neither called upon nor authorized to dispense any of the electors from the obligation of supporting Douglas and Johnson, which, as the chosen candidates of the convention they naturally incur, unless they shall decline to accept the nomination, and the Democratic voters are consequently justified in expecting those who have been nominated by the Democratic State Convention at Syracuse, as soon as they have accepted such nomination and been elected, to vote in the electoral college for Douglas and Johnson.

An address to the Union men of New York, however, issued by the Union electoral committee, appointed by the Union party, for the purpose of forming an electoral ticket in the interest of that party, recommends to the support of that party the same electors who were chosen by the Democratic State Convention, and states that in addition to the electors in favor of their candidate—Bell and Everett—the ticket contains the names of some friends of Douglas, intimating clearly that certain electors on the Democratic ticket are at liberty to give their electoral votes for the candidates of the Union party.

It thus appears that persons belonging to the different parties are called upon to support one and the same ticket, while the proceedings of the Democratic State Convention, as well as the assurance of the Union electoral committee, have led the members of the respective parties to entertain different and even opposite expectations in regard to the result of their votes.

The Democratic state committee is at all events charged with the duty of establishing the truth in respect to the electoral ticket nominated by the Democratic state convention.

You have been authorized by the Convention to take all measures which may seem judicious and necessary to give a popular expression to the national and conservative opinion of the State, and I, in acting upon such authority you should be induced to adopt the views of the Union electoral committee in regard to the obligations and duties of the electors on the Democratic ticket, I must request you to erase my name from the list, as I do not wish to lend any one to infer, from its being there, that the electors nominated by the Democratic state convention are bound to the support of the candidates of the convention—to the support of Douglas and Johnson.

Respectfully, OSWOLD OTENDORFER.

The Committee have not yet found it convenient to answer this straight-forward letter. Indeed they are sorely puzzled what to do. If they say that all the thirty-five Electors on the "fusion" ticket are pledged to vote for DOUGLAS and JOHNSON, the BELL men will drop it like a hot potato. If they admit that the ten Know-Nothings on the ticket are at liberty to vote for BELL, then the German and Irish Democracy will "scratch" them. And if they reply that, according to Gov. HUNT's programme, the Electors are to use their own discretion as to whom they shall vote for, then there will be a general stampede among the rank and file of both parties. The dilemma is certainly an awkward one. No wonder that it bothers the DOUGLAS Committee and the N. Y. Express dreadfully. 'Tis only an illustration, however, of the old and true saying that "cheating play never prospers!"

The Drag-Net Out.

The DOUGLASITES are at last on their marrow bones in New York. Having failed to coax the BRECKINRIDGE flies into their parlor as they had previously done the BELL men, they are ready for any bargain the inexorable Hards may propose. The DOUGLAS State Central Committee were in session in New York city on Wednesday and Thursday last, anxiously waiting for proposals from the BRECKINRIDGE men, but none being received, they threw out their drag-net thus and then adjourned:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the Chair to confer with any political organization for the purpose of securing the co-operation of all who are opposed to the Republican party.

They hope to catch the BRECKINRIDGERS in this net, and perhaps they will—certainly they will if the Journal of Commerce has any influence. And what a coming down is this! These DOUGLAS fellows have affected the utmost contempt for the BRECKINRIDGE branch of the Democracy, and declared their determination to hold no communion with the "disunionists." But here they declare themselves perfectly willing to unite with them; and have even appointed a committee to solicit these "disorganizers" to co-operate with them in a general scramble for the spoils against the Republicans! The "Great Principle" is to be wholly discarded, and everything, even honor and independence is to be thrown to the winds, provided the sacrifice will bring fish to their net.

THAT DISCORD, apathy and indifference pervade the party, is obvious to all who read the leading Republican journals.—News.

It sounds well for the Democrats to prate of Discord in our ranks. If the unanimous support of ABE LINCOLN by every Republican sheet in the country is discord; if the enthusiastic support of the Republican ticket by every Republican who claims to be such is discord—then are our ranks most discordant. Had we two candidates in the field, and were spending all our time and money to secure the support of the adherents of a third—it might be otherwise.

As to apathy and indifference. It has been the purpose of the leading Republican sheets, since the commencement of the Campaign, to warn the people against that apathy which is the result of confidence in the success of their ticket. If there is any indifference, it springs from a belief that no great exertions are necessary to defeat a divided and sectional party. And this is the apathy we have warned Republicans against. They would fain rest on their arms, satisfied from the evidences of things that LINCOLN will be carried into the Presidential chair, on a tide of involuntary popular favor.

When we speak of this apathy and urge the people not to relax their efforts, even though there would seem to be so little need of labor, the News takes up the cry, and echoes it, with such additions as would lead one to suppose the Republicans were all by the ears—fighting for a multiplicity of candidates and objects.

A Pill for the News.

In 1851, during the month of October, the Democrats of Milwaukee County held a Convention. We take from the official report, Nov. 1st, 1851, the following resolution adopted at that Convention:

Resolved, That we are opposed to and protest against the organization of more Slave States out of the now Free Territories, and that we are in favor of the abolition of Slavery whenever Congress has power to abolish it.

The Democrats of to-day dare not defend this resolution. If they do, the Democratic party of to-day, which has since that time been recreant to its own principles, would incontinently kick him out of doors.

We rather like the resolution, and hope our neighbor of the News will pardon us for re-publishing it.

Fond du Lac County all Right.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

FOND DU LAC, Sept. 3, 1860.

EDITOR SENTINEL:—Saturday evening the LINCOLN and HAMLIN Wide Awake Club, of this city, had the pleasure of attending a Republican demonstration in the town of Taycheedah. They were received at the place of speaking amid the booming of cannon, the burning of bonfires, and the cheers of the throng assembled; amid which they marched to the speakers' stand, which was beautifully decorated by the handiwork of the wide-awake ladies of that town, where they, and the throng assembled, and had the pleasure of listening to a very able and forcible speech of about an hour's length, from Mr. E. A. BROWN, Esq., a young and promising lawyer, who is doing efficient work for the Republican cause in this county.

I have neither time nor space to notice the many good points made by the speaker; but suffice it to say, that the enthusiastic manner in which the speech was received, the speaker being repeatedly interrupted by vociferous cheering, but justly testified to its truthfulness and ability. Mr. BROWN was followed, in a few timely remarks, by Messrs. PAINE, BEAVER and WARD; also of this city; after which the meeting, amid "three times three" for LINCOLN and HAMLIN, adjourned.

The Republicans have a LINCOLN and HAMLIN club organized in every town in the county, all of which are doing a good work in the cause of Freedom, Free Homes, LINCOLN and HAMLIN. Set down Fond du Lac county for a rousing majority for "Honest Old Abe."

The telegram from this place, stating that "good feeling prevailed" in Democratic circles on the nomination of "our LABRABEE," takes some of the knowing ones, here and hereabouts, by surprise. The author of that telegram had, evidently, not consulted the feelings of one E. S. BRAGG, H. C. HOBART, and a host of others, who "look daggers" whenever the name of LABRABEE is mentioned.

The Republicans meet in Congressional council at Ripon, next Wednesday, when it is hoped they will throw a bomb-shell into the Democratic camp—in the way of a good nomination—that will not tend to allay the "irrepressible conflict" now raging among the Democracy of this District. The Wide Awakes of this city and several other places have accepted invitations to be present, and a good time is anticipated.

WIDE-AWAKE.

Matters at Hustisford.

HUSTISFORD, Sept. 1, 1860.

EDITOR SENTINEL:—Dear Sir:—I take this opportunity to inform you of a great blessing this benighted land received some weeks since. "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel," seems to be a passage of the Scriptures that the Hards are somewhat familiarly acquainted with, for one of the "hardest of the Hards" visited this place on a mission of mercy to reclaim us from the error of our ways. The people of this town have for some time been engulphed in a spiritual darkness, i. e. Republicanism; but this self-sacrificing "BRECKINRIDGITE" had journied all the way from Mississippi to preach the everlasting "twin reliques" to the heathens of Hustisford. But this Apostle did not follow the injunctions of our Saviour to the letter, for he took money, (furnished by BRECK.) and had two coats. He partially followed the Divine precepts, for he supped with Republicans and sinners, although we have no account of his dining with them.

His resorts were several German saloons, where he would treat and talk; talk and treat, and in a short space of time there was a great improvement in the morals of the people; but since he has left, they are slowly returning to their former vices of sin. He denounced the DOUGLASITES and BELL-EVERETT men in the strongest way imaginable, and said "Squatter Sovereignty ought to go 'where the worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.'" But after staying around here for several weeks, he took his gloomy departure, and we doubt not he shook the dust from his feet when he departed out of our course, for verily we were given over to ABE LINCOLN and HAN. HAMLIN.

A tremendous hail storm passed through the southern part of this town and the northern part of Lebanon, doing immense damage—blowing a barn down for Mr. F. RIDER, killing a horse and an ox, and crushing a threshing machine to pieces, so that it was worthless. It beat the leaves of the trees completely, and killed prairie hens and rabbits. The damage done to Mr. RIDER was estimated at $1,500, and a man by the name of GERMAN to the amount of $2,000, ruining a great deal of wheat and entirely demolishing corn, &c.

Yours respectfully, E.

M. JOBARD, a French savant, has astounded the scientific world. He has discovered a way of suspending animation, and also of bringing the dead back to life. He professes to be able to restore a drowned man after two days' immersion, and a frozen subject after ten years' "oblivion." Provided a culprit's neck be not broken, he can be brought back to life after hanging a whole day. M. JOBARD with great sympathy for the "ills which flesh are heir to," suggests that medical men should immediately make themselves a squainted with the secret of his invention, so that the poor unfortunate might be suspended till better times came around, and the victims of thwarted love may enjoy the forgetfulness of a prolonged catalepsy.—A Commission has been named to examine M. JOBARD'S system of suspending animation.

INDIANA ALL ALIVE.—The Democrats claim that Indiana is for DOUGLAS, through and through, and that the Republicans have signally failed to effect any organization there. To which we reply: There is not a county in the State but has a Wide Awake club in it. The enthusiasm among the Republicans exceeds that of 1840, among the Whigs. There are not less than 20,000 Wide Awakes now in the State.

A CASTLE TO BE SHOT FOR.—A letter from Cologne, of the 8th instant, states that the inhabitants to that city are occupied with the preparations for a grand festival which is to take place at the end of the present month or the beginning of September. There is to be a general German shooting match, to which all are to be invited—Swiss, Belgians, Dutch and English. The prize to be gained is a castle, of the value of about £6,000, situated opposite to Coblentz, with a magnificent view over that city, Stolzenfels, the Rhine, and the Moselle. The building is perfectly new; it is constructed according to the fashion of the middle ages, with drawbridge and towers. This, if true, is great news for the rifle corps.

ON THE FARM of Henry Van Kuren, Empire, Mr. John Ford raised sixty bushels of Fife wheat on a single acre. Seven hundred bushels of Barley was raised on twelve acres of ground. The proof of this can be furnished if any one is inclined to doubt it.—Fond du Lac Saturday Reporter, 1st.

SINGULAR ACCIDENT.—A young lady of Richmond, Va., is passionately fond of the piano, and has an absorbing love for music. She recently became so violently absorbed that she struck the keys with such force as to break her fore-finger near the first joint.

CAN FRUIT BE GROWN HERE?—There are evidences sufficient this season, we should think, to convince the most sceptical, that fruit can be successfully grown in this section—instances has been related to us, of fruit bearing trees this year, which, were it not for the unquestioned veracity of the person we should feel it necessary to receive with some qualification.

These instances of successful culture places the question beyond dispute. At Neenah our attention was called to some Dwarf Pear trees, so overloaded with fruit as to make it necessary to prop the cranches. The appearance of those trees really made us envious, and our mouth water exceedingly. By the way we learn that most of the trees for sale in the Neenah Nursery are seedling stocks, grafted by the proprietor himself, and the great advantage in getting trees from this source, would be greater hardiness, more certainty of their being true to their names, and more likelihood of their living—as any one desiring trees to set out, by sending their orders there can get their trees the same day or the day after they are taken up—and the risk of transplanting, is thereby materially lessened.—Green Bay Advocate.

A GOSSIPPING New York correspondent writes:

"New York is just now the Paradise of diplomatists. The foreign ministers congregate chiefly at the less crowded Clarendon and Brevoort, the Russian and South American Envoys patronizing the former, and the representatives of Great Britain, Prussia and France the latter hotel. Our own representatives attach themselves to the Fifth Avenue, the St. Nicholas and the Metropolitan.

"Lord Lyons is a reserved and timid, but gentle and amiable looking man. The Russian Ambassador, Baron Stoeckle, is full of pluck and rivacity, although of small German lineage, while everything in the appearance of Lord Lyons betokens the high bred English nobleman. The greatest diplomat of them all, however, is neither to be found at the Clarendon or Brevoort, but lives in proud and haughty isolation at the St. Denis. The habitues of this gay and splendid resort have recently been much impressed by the portly appearance and dignified behavior of a not yet quite middle aged man, who might be taken for a substantial suburban Squire if it were not for a certain air of refinement which is redolent of the atmosphere of Courts and the blandishments of high life. This is no less a personage than the renowned and redoubtable Chevalier Wykoff.

ACCIDENTS.—During the heavy thunder shower of Wednesday, last week, the horses attached to a threshing machine in Ashford, became unmanageable, and tore the horse power to pieces, seriously injuring Mr. Aaron Peck, who was driving. He was taken out of the ruins for dead, but was finally restored to consciousness.

Col. Hatch's son, of Oakfield Centre, had a fall on Tuesday, that broke his collar bone.

At Chester, on Monday, Mr. Robert Mosher slid from the top of a stack, and struck on the end of a pitch fork handle, injuring himself severely.

On Monday, Mr. Carrier, of Oakfield Centre, was severely injured by being struck in the breast by a falling pitch fork, which penetrated the lung.

Leroy Amadon, of Waupun, was thrown from a wagon upon a stone pile, and badly hurt, on Tuesday last.—Fond du Lac Saturday Reporter, 1st inst.

HIGH TIMES IN COLUMBIA COUNTY.—Sometime since Dr. Davis, of Portage City, obtained a judgment of $4,400 against the La Crosse and Milwaukee Railroad, for the right of way across some land of his in that vicinity, and also an injunction against running the cars across the land until the damages were paid. The case went to the Supreme Court, and a new trial was granted on the ground of excessive damages; but the injunction was not dissolved. Several employees—conductors—of the road have been arrested for violating the injunction, and have given bail. More arrests were threatened, and officers stationed at the depots to make them. But the railroad men were too sharp; they ran the trains right through without making a stop in the county—not even at Portage City. If the people of the latter place, and along the line of the road in that county, don't get sick of that sort of business before long, we shall wonder. The railroad men evidently have the "inside track."—Washington Co Democrat.

BATTLE WITH PORPOISES.—A fortnight since, there was a very remarkable scene in a creek close by the sea at Duxbury, Mass. between Plymouth and Marshfield. A small sail boat, in coming up the creek from the ocean, came upon a drove of porpoises.—Other boats joined the first, and drove the sea monsters up the creek into water so shallow that they could not easily make their escape. Some of the party in the boats began to shoot the porpoises. Others with guns from the shore immediately joined them, and soon there was a general slaughter with guns and knives. The battle raged some time, when the entire drove, 75 porpoises, old and young, was killed. The largest porpoise weighed 800 pounds.

IMPRESSIVE PERORATION OF A SERMON.—Rev. Dr. Spring, of New York, preached his 50th anniversary sermon on Sunday, and closed his discourse as follows:

"The half century is gone—gone like some small star that has just twinkled in the curtain of the night; gone like the dying cadence of distant minstrelsy, as it vanishes into air; gone like the word just spoken, for good or evil, never to be recalled; gone like the clouds which disappear after they have exhausted their treasures upon the earth; gone like the leaves of autumn, that are scattered to the winds as they wither; gone like the phantom which, in pursuit, had a semblance to reality, but which, in the retrospect, is melted away—gone, gone as yesterday has gone."

THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE.

NO MORE SHALL THE POOR SUFFERERS in our country languish, their constitutions racked and torn by strong and dangerous mineral medicines; they will come to the fountain of health, found in simple herbs and roots from nature's storehouse. THE MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS, of innocent mountain plants compound, will reach and stop their distress, and cause the blood, renewed and cleansed, to carry through the body the elements of health, for the broken constitution and carrying life and health, where but for them would have been the wreck of hope—the feeble mom of suffering, at last ended by the cold hand of death. Do no let prejudice overcome your better reason: do not look upon these Pills as only like others; do not let your despair, after trying everything else, prevent you from trying them. The blood must be pure, and then sickness is impossible.—What a great and yet simple truth is this! it appeals to the common sense of all: it is the great key-stone of the healing art. JUDSON'S MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS will purify and cleanse it as sure as the sun will rise to-morrow.

MY BROTHER TOM.

[CONCLUDED.]

One evening Tom had driven to the station to receive some parcels for the house, and we walked in the sunset by the roadside a mile or two to meet him. Webster and Jane were some distance in advance of Adela and myself. By some inexplicable process of remark we had trespassed upon the mystery of love. We were discussing the contrasts and durability of attachments as presented in fiction and experienced in fact.—At that moment Tom drove up, and pausing for Webster and Jane, they stepped into the carriage. A few paces and we came up. I was stout—or rather was designing—to hand Adela to a seat by the side of Tom, and return alone, when Adela, playfully, but with the decision she could exercise at will, said, waiving her hand to Tom.

"Go on; we will follow and enjoy the evening air. Mr. Frederick and myself are detailing a very interesting topic—one which will entertain us on the way. I am sure he will forego the ride, and consent to accompany me," with an inquiring look.

I don't know what or how I replied, but muttered something about Tom, who would prefer to walk perhaps, and I could drive the carriage home. Tom, however, thought it best to conform with Adela's suggestion; and to my surprise, and I confess my inexpressible delight, I saw the carriage presently moving off homeward, and myself alone with Adela. I cannot tell what expression was on my face as I turned to look a moment upon hers, but hers was radiant with beauty. The archness which it seemed to have voluntarily assumed as she disposed of Tom and the carriage was utterly gone, and superseded by a suffused tenderness which pervaded every feature. Her eyes were brimming with moisture, and a tide of crimson flushed for a moment her cheek and brow, and then gently receded, as if to hide within the betrayal of some secret emotion. I felt that there had been an instant self-accusation, and in that instant I cherished to my heart the first developed hope, and nourished the first aspiration of my delirious love.

Our subject was resumed, but how I have forgotten. I know that the theme somehow kindled into a mutual glow of tongues, the hearts, the lips that feasted on it. I know that it was full two hours before we reached home; and I know that under a spreading apple tree in the orchard, which we chose to cross in our way to the house, our discussion ended in a heart warm, tender mutual embrace. There was a flutter of her white dress in the moon-light, and she disappeared by a side door, which admitted her, unperceived, to her own apartment.

I stood fascinated. The dew of her lip was yet upon my own, when I heard the voice of my brother Tom. I dared not answer for I felt an audible voice whispering mischievously about my heart, "There, go tell your brother Tom of that!"

He approached me.

"What! moon struck, Fred?" He never suspected, poor fellow. "Where's Adela?"

I replied that she had gone into the house as soon as we returned.

"Oh! you have been back some time, then? I wondered what had become of you."

"Fred," said Tom, passing his arm thro' mine, "I have concluded to propose to Adela to-morrow. I don't know, but I am half inclined to think that Gus intends to do so very shortly; I must be beforehand with him. To tell you the truth, I have several times determined to do so; but though, as you see, she loves me to distraction, yet there is a—a sort of something which rather repels me whenever I approach the matter."

Oh! what a wretch was I to walk by his side calm as the evening around us, and happy as a prince. Indeed, I would have exchanged the rare and treasured joy of my heart for no principality in Christendom.

It was noon on the following day, as I sat in the library, that Tom entered hastily, and threw his hat into one chair, his body into another and his patent leathers, with his heels in them, into a third. The usting his hands through his luxuriant hair, he turned upon me.

"Fred, by all the ——," (saints, he should have said) "sine has rejected me—me. Fred, me."

I looked up, and like Oliver Twist, I suppose my look must have asked for more.

"It's all dam, I am sure. I pressed her for an objection—a single objection—my person, habits, condition, expectations—all right there, my boy. She hinted, as I understood her—though it was very delicately done—that her heart was not entirely at her own disposal. I might almost have inferred from what she said that she loved another; but I don't believe anything of that sort, you know, Fred."

"Has she ever given you reason to believe that she entertained any other sentiment than that of friendship toward you?" I asked.

"Never till to-day, Fred."

"To day?" I said, a little nervously.

"Yes, to-day. I'll explain. I saw her enter the drawing room this morning, and followed her there in a minute or two. You know there are a dozen of our family daguerreotypes lying upon the table. I saw her take up mine, gaze upon it a moment with tenderness, press it to her lips, and conceal it in her bosom. This I saw by the mirror opposite the door, as I paused a moment before I entered. It was more than enough to encourage me to seize the opportunity as I had designed, declare my love, and propose for her hand. The sequel you have already. She actually rejected me, yet walked off with Tom Wells in her bosom! What do you think of that my boy? Are not these women the very—

"Stop a moment, Tom," said I. I did not like the profanation and arrested the word. "Are you quite sure it was your miniature, Tom?" I asked. The philosophy of love may explain the fact—I cannot—but I had somehow lost a portion of my reverence for Tom's irresistability, and in the cause in which I was now embarked was as brave as Julius Cæsar.

"Why, whose could it be, if not mine?" Tom asked, with the most generous confidence. "As I was never had the impudence to have his there. I tell you what Fred, I had my suspicions when Adela hinted what she did. If that's the case, Gus Webster or Tom Wells—one or the other."

We had instinctively moved towards the drawing room, and Tom had already caught up one of the daguerreotypes. His and mine had been done at the same time, by the same artist, and the cases were precisely alike. He touched the spring of that in his hand, and there was the elegant counterfeit presentment" of—my brother Tom!

"That's strange," said Tom. "Here's father—she hasn't carried him off, and here's mother and sister. Why, Fred, where is your's?"

"Mine," said I, "was here this morning. But the fact is, in my discussion with Adela last night, I made a suggestion to her, and she was to signify her concurrence with it by appropriating my miniature this morning.—My proposition was as good as accepted, I believe, last night, for we had interchanged the usual courtesies of the occasion just before you joined me in the orchard——"

There was a rustle of silk behind us.—Tom had drawn off a little and fixed his wondering gaze on me as Adela came between us, urged by her apprehensions of the consequences.

"Yes," she said, "dear Tom I have appropriated your brother's daguerreotype, and by so doing intimated my acceptance of his proffered hand and heart."

Tom stood one moment the very personication of exquisite surprise; the next, he threw himself into a chair, clapped his hands upon his sides, and went off into an uncontrollable burst of laughter—not loud, but rollicking with the keenest relish of a feast of humor all his own. In this exploit, Tom, at least, was irresistible—his mirth was contagious. I joined in the laugh, and Adela, with some difficulty, restrained her features. There was something so jolly and yet so felicitously in the scene, that it was impossible not to enjoy it with him. At length Tom sprung from the seat, caught my hand in one of his, and Adela's in the other, and exclaimed:

"Well, by Jove, Fred—Adela—this is the best joke of the season!"

Webster and Jane came in from a morning walk, and it was then understood that they had concluded an arrangement a day or two before.

"And so, Gus, you were never in love with Adela—never had a design that way—eh?"

"Never thought of such a think, Tom; but I confess my danger, had not your charming cousin engaged my attention."

"Well, that is rare! Why, of what a weight of care, consideration and responsibility I should have been relieved had I only known that before!"

"But you don't mean to say, Tom," hinted Gus, interrogatively, "that you never loved Adela, that you have been flirting all this time?"

THE GREATEST
MEDICAL DISCOVERY OF THE AGE.

MR. KENNEDY, OF ROXBURY, HAS discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures
EVERY KIND OF HUMOR FROM THE WORST SCROFULA DOWN TO A COMMON PIMPLE.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, both thunder humorists of this value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

Two to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two or three bottles will cure the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the stomach.

Two or five bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of Erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humors in the stomach.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruptions of the skin.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of Rheumatism.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the most severe case of rheumatism.

Three or four bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

ROXBURY, Mass.

DEAR MADAM:—The reputation of the Medical Discovery, in curing all kinds of humors, is so well established, by the unanimous voice of all who have ever used it, that I need not say anything on the subject, as the most skillful physicians and the most careful druggists in the country are unanimous in its praise.

In presenting the Medical Discovery to your notice, I do it with a full knowledge of its curative powers, in relieving all, and curing most of the diseases to which you are unfortunately so liable. That most excruciating disease to an affectionate mother, is cured as if by a miracle; your own temper is restored to its natural sweetness, and your babe from short and fretful naps to calm and sweet slumbers; and the Medical Discovery becomes a fountain of blessings to your husband and household.

NURSING SORE MOUTH

In the more advanced stages of
it extends to the stomach, causing DYSPEPSIA
which is nothing but canker on the stomach; then, also intestines and creating a sinking, gone feeling, and an indifference even to the cares of your family.

Your stomach is
RAW AND INFLAMED,
your food distresses you, and you can only take certain kinds, and even of that your system craves but half the nourishment it contains, as the acrimonious fluids of the canker eats it up; then your complexion loses the bloom and becomes sallow or ashen, and your best day is gone. For want of nourishment your system becomes reduced and flabby, and the sinews of your body become relaxed. Then follows a train of distress which the Medical Discovery is peculiarly adapted to CURE;
Palpitation of the heart, pain in the side, weakness of the spine and small of the back, pain of the hip-joint when you retire, irritability of the temper, and also that most excruciating of diseases the PILES.

How many thousands of poor women are suffering from this disease and pining away a miserable life, and their best friends or doctor does not know the cause. I wish to impress on your mind that a word to the wise, an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure.

MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

You have both the preventative and the cure, with this great and good quality, that it will never, under any circumstances, do you an injury. I am truly,
DONALD KENNEDY.

☞ For sale by all Druggists in Milwaukee, and in all "Nervous" Disorders.

Consumptives, in any stage of the disease, should procure immediately the use of the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. Wanchese's "Genuine Preparation" (in simple syrup), in extra large bottles, is the only reliable, pure, and unadulterated form of the remedy

LATEST NEWS!

BY LAST NIGHT'S REPORT

Additional by the Steamer Palestine.

FARTHER POINT, Sep. 4—9 P. M.

The news published in the German papers that Napoleon has proposed a Congress for the settlement of Italian question, is totally unfounded.

The Calen Gazette, published a Verona letter which says that an Austrian note relative to Garibaldi expedition, will shortly be forwarded.

Four Russian frigates under command of the Grand Duke Constantine, are about to proceed to Syria.

The Duke of Modena, is enrolling volunteers and purchasing horses.

The French Government has already made known to the European Governments, that its proposal for raising Spain to the rank of a great power having given rise to objections, it will not endeavor for the present to carry it out.

Leonardi repeats its account of the arrangements at Topolitz, notwithstanding the official denial.

The same paper asserts that suggestions made by Prussia for the reorganization of the army of the Confederation, were strongly disapproved by the secondary German States, who considered that the giving up of the command of the military forces to one or both of the great powers, would be the first step towards their political extinction.

The smaller States have refused to abdicate so much of their independent sovereign power.

SHANGHAI, JULY 28TH.—Lord Elgin and Baron Gross have arrived.

Sir Hope Grant and Admiral Hope have left for Peiklin. This city is protected by the allies.

The rebels are making progress, and trade with the interior is stopped.

CANTON, JULY 8TH.—Matters are more settled. One hundred war vessels and transports were in Foo Chow Bay on the 14th of June.

The Mandarins have been ordered to furnish no supplies to the allies.

LIVERPOOL, AUG. 24TH.—LONDON MARKET.—Wheat in good demand and 2s. advance per sack. Flour 2s. dearer. Oats in brisk demand at Wednesday's advance. Barley quiet at very full rates.

From the Plains.

INDEPENDENCE, Sept. 4—9 P. M.

The New Mexican mail, with dates to the 21st, arrived to-day.

The 5th and 7th infantry regiments from Utah, arrived at Santa Fe in good health. The 5th are to be stationed at Fort Defiance, and the 7th at Fort Buchanan.

A campaign against the Navajoe Indians will be made this fall. The citizens will raise 1,000 volunteers, independent of the regular army.

Weather continues dry in that country. No rain has fallen for some time, and crops suffered for the want of it.

Thaddeus Madger was tried for the murder of a Mexican, on Thursday last, and found guilty of murder in the first degree. He will be hung on the 14th inst. This is the first conviction of an American for murder, for 12 years.

Great complaint is made about the arrival of the mails on Tuesdays, and departures on Mondays. Correspondents have to let their answers lay over one week by the present arrangements. They wish the mail to depart from Independence on Saturday in place of Monday, so that Santa Fe correspondents can answer their letters next day after the arrival of the out-going mail.

Greenwood, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, was met at Big Bend of Arkansas river, getting along well.

The prairie was alive with teams, going to Fort Union, Pawnee Fork, Big Timbers and Denver City.

The commerce of the Plains is larger than ever known before.

A large band of Arapshoe Indians were at Pawnee Fork, in a starving condition.

No hostile Indians were seen on the route.

Judge J. L. Grant, of this city, died in Denver City on the 24th.

Six passengers came through; names not known.

The Jackson County Fair commences today. A large attendance is anticipated.

Janesville Horse Fair.

JANESVILLE, Sept. 4—9 P. M.

The attendance at the opening of the National Horse Show more than exceeds expectations. Up to 4 o'clock to-day, 160 entries had been made. This number is considered very large for the opening day.—The horses from Vermont are very choice, consisting in part of Black Hawk, Messenger and Morgan. The horses already entered are probably as fine a lot of blooded horses as were ever exhibited west of New York.

Weather pleasant, and city rapidly filling up with strangers.

Present indications are that the exhibition will prove to be a perfect success.

PEORIA, Sept. 4—9 P. M.

Nathen C. Meer, Esq., late editor of the Peoria Daily Transcript, and an able and influential citizen, died at his residence this evening.

THREATENED FAMINE IN IRELAND.—The latest accounts from England fully confirm, by repeating what was said some weeks ago, respecting the failure of the crops in that country. During the last ten months, there has not been three weeks of fine weather in all, and such an occurrence as even three days, consecutive cessation of rain has not occurred. The European Times of the 11th inst., says:

"The unfavorable state of the atmosphere on the crops is the subject of general remark, and, in addition to the injury which has been done to the cereal products, the state of that important esculent, the potato, is causing considerable uneasiness. In fact, the weather is not dissimilar, in many respects, to the year in which the late Sir Robert Peel proposed the repeal of the Corn Law.

The reports from Ireland respecting the potato are cheerless. Cold, damp weather, such as we have had so long, is exactly that which is known to exercise the most injurious effects on the potato. In some parts of Ireland, (the county of Wexford, for instance) the blight is said to be greater than has been since the first year of its appearance, in 1848, and in other parts of the island the symptoms are also very disheartening. What if they should encounter another famine in the sister county? An impetus has already been given to the import of breadstuffs, large quantities of which are on their way."

THREE WIVES of one husband, now (the husband, we mean,) righteously serving a sentence in Auburn, N. Y., State Prison, paid him a formal visit, the other day, all at once, just to heap coals of fire on his head. One brought some apples, another peaches, and the third cake; and then they marched out proudly, Indian file, leaving him to his digestion of the visit and its fruits.

GRAND CHANCE TO SECURE A HOME upon such terms that any one who has any industry can do it. Lockwood & Seldden's Addition, has made me his agent, to sell his lots in said Addition, at unusually low prices, and on such terms that any one can meet the payments. It is unnecessary to go into argument to convince you that property in Milwaukee is rising, and which is situated in the First Ward, must, and will be the most desirable residence property in the city of Milwaukee, as it lies on the bluff of the Lake and on high ground which overlooks the city, and a more healthy situation cannot be found. It is only ten minutes walk, or a very desirable ride on the Horse Railroad passing through it every fifteen or twenty minutes. Much more could be said about this very valuable property, but we will only say, any persons who have any desire to purchase any of said Lots, if they will call at my office, No. 98 East Water street, will find it to their interest to view the Lots, and they can judge for themselves. The terms on which said Lots will be sold are as follows: One per cent. down; twelve months: 15 per cent, in two years: and 25 per cent. every year thereafter until the amount is paid, with interest at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, interest not to commence until six months after the date of purchase. Here is a chance never before offered, and those desiring to avail themselves of it may be certain that this property will advance 100 per cent. in less than twelve months. The great advantages to be derived from a small investment, and with so little risk, render this property free from all encumbrances whatever. Certificate of title will be furnished to any one who purchases.

COMMERCIAL.

MONETARY.

TUESDAY P. M., September 4, 1860.

We note an easy money market; currency plenty enough for all business demands, and exchange on the East in good supply at ¾ ℔ cent. premium.

CHICAGO MONEY MARKET.—The Press & Tribune of this morning has the following:

The liberal shipments of produce during the past two days has supplied the market well with Eastern exchange, and rates are again easier. The selling rate at the Banks is ¼ ℔ cent. premium, but round lots could be obtained at ⅜ ℔ cent., and sales were made on the street at ½ ℔ cent. With the present receipts and plenty of freight room Eastern exchange will doubtless soon decline to ¾ ℔ cent. premium.

There is a more active demand for currency, but the bankers are generally well supplied.

NEW YORK MONEY MATTERS.—We have the following by telegraph from New York to-day, in reference to money and stocks:

Second Board—Stocks rather firm under the news from Europe. Chi & R I 78¾; C & T 44¾; C B & Q 87¾; G & Cut 76¾; M S guld 46; M S 20¾; M C 49½; Harlem 13¾; C & Pitts 10¾; Erie 37¾; N Y C 83¾; Pac Mail 71.

Private despatches per the Pallestine reports great excitement in American securities in London. Illino a Central had advanced 1¾ per cent., quotations being 14c discount for scrip, and 69¾c for construction bonds; New York Central scrip 82c, do 6 per cent bonds 85c; Michigan Central shares 60c, do 8 per cent's 98; Erie shares 29c, do third mortgage 34c; United States 5s 99c.

The wheat market opened with a great deal of firmness to-day, under the influence of the commercial advices by the City of Manchester; at first buyers did not seem inclined to go above yesterday's closing figures, remembering the experience of last week, but towards noon conceded to an advance of 2c, which was followed on 'Change by a still further improvement of 2@3c. The sales reported amount to about 90,000 bushels at 90@95c for No. 1 spring; 80@83c for No. 2; 95@96c for Club; and 97@$1,00 for Extra—the market closing firm at the outside figures.

MARINE ITEMS.

BIG CARGOES—FAST WORK.

The bark De Soto cleared from this port for Buffalo on Saturday, with a cargo of 24,500 bushels of wheat, and the bark Winslow with 20,500 bushels. These two fine vessels have been engaged almost exclusively in the Milwaukee trade during the past two seasons. They, with a great many others of the best class of vessels, never go to Chicago when there is a chance for getting a load at Milwaukee. Running from this port to Buffalo they can make one more trip, as a general thing, in a season than from Chicago, the saving in distance being nearly two hundred miles, and there is also a better chance for loading quickly here than at Chicago. Quite frequently vessels that arrive here in the morning go out loaded in the afternoon. We have one case in mind when a vessel—the Jo Viles—was chartered at noon, took on a load of wheat and was under way at 3 o'clock of the same day.

OUR LAKE COMMERCE.

One propeller and ten sail vessels cleared from this port yesterday for Buffalo and Oswego, all loaded with wheat, and taking in the aggregate 140,000 bushels.

THE DACOTAH.

This elegant and staunch screw steamer, of which Capt. Cross, of this city, was recently appointed Captain, arrived from Buffalo to-day with a large cargo of merchandize.

FURTHER OF THE GALE.

The Detroit Tribune of Saturday evening brings the following additional particulars of the damage done by the late gale on Lake Huron:

The schooner Geo. Foote, bound down grain loaded, was struck by the squall and driven hard on Fighting Island. The Arrow went to her assistance and succeeded in getting her off.

The schooner Starlight had her fore-topsail blown away near Point au Pelee, on Lake Erie. She arrived here this morning and obtained such another sail is procured from the sail loft.

The bark John Sweeney, when off Point au Pelee, had most of her canvas blown away. The full particulars we have not yet received, as she has not yet arrived at this port.

The bark Nucleus, bound down grain loaded, sprung a leak yesterday, off Lexington, Lake Huron. She was taken in tow by the propeller Montgomery and brought to Port Huron, where she now lies.

PASSED DETROIT.

The following is a list of vessels passing Detroit in the 24 hours ending 1 P. M Saturday:

Up—Steamer Sea Bird; propeller Young America, Selwin, Mary Stewart; brigs C. Walbridge, Empire State; schooners Sea-Gull, Milwaukee Belle, Lookout, Republic, Midnight.

Down—Steamer Kalkoolah; propellers Monongahela, Ogden burgh, Fountain City, Wenonah; barks Jesse Hoyt, David Morris, Badger State, Hungarian; brigs Oakland, N. Standish, Mechanic, Sir Charles Napier; schooners James Leslie, Carthagenian, Acontias, Hanover, Avenger, Geo. Worthington, Andover, Delos DeWolf, Sweepstakes, Ohio, Sumner, Orpheus, Mary Pleasants, Whitmore Bros, Wm. Williams, Africa, Racine, A. Baensch, W. H. Craig, O. North, Gold Hunter, Union.

Weather pleasant, with moderate North breeze.

THE "SARNIA."—The new ferry boat of Messrs. Brockway, Bolsford and Moffat, built to ply between Sarnia and Port Huron, which has been christened the Sarnia, is nearly finished, and will be placed on the route the latter part of next week. Her dimensions which have never been given correctly by any of our city papers are,—length, 90 feet over all; breadth of beam, 19 feet 4 inches; depth of hold, 5 feet. The Detroit Locomotive Works have turned out the machinery for her, with a cylinder 17 inch bore and 4 feet stroke. She has a "returned flue" boiler, made at the same establishment, which a number of competent judges pronounce equal to anything ever made. Good iron and good workmanship can go no further. A trial was made of her engine a day or two since, and it was found to work admirably.—Detroit Tribune.
